General Information

Mission Statement

The International Institute for Restorative Practices is dedicated to the advanced education of professionals at the graduate level and to the conduct of research that can develop the growing field of restorative practices, with the goal of positively influencing human behavior and strengthening civil society throughout the world.

About Us

The International Institute for Restorative Practices (IIRP) Graduate School is the world's first graduate school wholly devoted to restorative practices. Our faculty — all scholar/practitioners — are dedicated to helping individuals find new ways to empower people and transform communities. This field, as well as our institution, is developing across national borders and professional disciplines, in order to positively influence human behavior and improve civil society.

The IIRP is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education, 3624 Market Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104. (267-284-5000) The Middle States Commission on Higher Education is an institutional accrediting agency recognized by the U.S. Secretary of Education and the Council for Higher Education Accreditation.

Our campus in Bethlehem, PA, is the international and intellectual hub of our accredited Graduate School. We ensure that quality professional development is accessible, affordable and culturally appropriate with our international affiliates: IIRP Australia, IIRP Canada, IIRP Europe and IIRP Latin America.

We also offer a train-the-trainers model for our alumni as well as to other practitioners. In this way, we have been able to train more than 100,000 professionals in more than 85 countries.

History

The face of higher education is changing rapidly and dramatically around the world. The IIRP has designed its offerings and services to meet the needs of 21st century adult learners and professionals. All that the IIRP offers is mission driven, rooted in everyday professional practice and accessible from anywhere in the world through a wide range of flexible learning options.

We are dedicated to the study of restoring relationships, social discipline, emotional well-being and civic participation through participatory learning and decision making.

Our faculty and graduate students engage in reflection, scientific inquiry and academic discussion, drawing on theory as well as their own professional practice and personal experience. Our entire institution is guided by the premise that “people are happier, more cooperative, more productive, and more likely to make positive changes when those in authority do things with them, rather than to them or for them.”

With roots in restorative justice, a way of looking at criminal justice that emphasizes repairing the harm done to people and relationships, restorative practices has the broader goal of proactively developing community, managing conflict, building relationships and increasing social capital.

The establishment of the IIRP Graduate School was the culmination of decades of work in restorative practices by a number of pioneers around the world, among them the IIRP’s founders, Ted and Susan Wachtel, who developed many of the theories at Buxmont Academy and the Community Service Foundation.

On June 23, 2011, the IIRP was accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education (MSCHE), 3624 Market Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104. (267-284-5000) The Middle States Commission on Higher Education is an institutional accrediting agency recognized by the U.S. Secretary of Education and the Council for Higher Education Accreditation.

As of the 2016-17 academic year, the IIRP moved from an academic year which starts with the Summer Term in June to an academic year which starts with the Fall term in September.

For more information, contact Linda Kligman, Vice President for Administration, at 610-807-9221.

Transparent Tuition

We believe that when choosing a graduate school, students don’t want any surprises when it comes to tuition and fees. Once students are admitted, we guarantee tuition will never increase and you will receive an additional 8.35% discount.

Unlike most schools, the IIRP does not charge fees for course registration, graduation and transcripts. Transparent Tuition means there are no hidden costs.

The IIRP has the following tuition schedule for the 2018-19 academic year.
